

Arabic Episode Has Bad Effect On The Markets

New York, Aug. 22.—The issues presented by the Arabic episode, which have assumed greater activity with the British statement that the ship was not under convoy, came on a market already vulnerable from speculation excesses in war order stocks. What ever this country's immunity from immediate consequences of a possible break with Germany, by reason of her engrossment in the European war, financial opinion takes account of the fact that alteration from our present unique advantage of position must follow the country's embroilment.

That advantage was emphasized by the downward plunge to 4 64 in demand sterling. Proposed relief means was the main topic in the week's markets. London's suggestion of shipment of a quarter billion dollars in gold measures the dimensions of the problem. Difficulties are found in agreeing on the form and terms of a credit in New York which would avoid the perils of inflation.

ATTEMPT TO DEFAUD IN A WHOLESALE WAY

By Emmet A. Jones, Chief, Immigration and Markets Bureau, State of Alabama.

But for the produce law, two wholesale dealers in Alabama would have swindled some 20 farmers and country merchants out of more than $1,200,000.

Upon investigation by the Department of Agriculture it was found that these two dealers were guilty of fraud and immediate action was taken to recover for the shippers amounts due them, varying from $6.00 to $64.00.

The bondsmen of these produce dealers are being notified and proceedings instituted under the provisions of the produce law for the collection of these claims.

In addition to the civil action taken in these two cases, criminal proceedings are also being instituted. The Department of Agriculture will prosecute these cases as well as all future cases of the kind, and a sharp look-out is being kept for dishonest and unscrupulous wholesale dealers in farm products, who, in the past have proved, not only a menace to the legitimate dealer, but one of the greatest draw-backs to diversification.

Under the provisions of the produce law the Department of Agriculture can and will see to it that the farmers get fair and just treatment in the sale of their products. Farmers and merchants are invited to send all claims against wholesale dealers where fraud is suspected to the Department of Agriculture.

KELLY SPRINGS ATTRACTS MANY

Kelly Springs came back into prominence Sunday, and there is no place within this county that attracted the multitudes as did the cool waters of Houston county's only water resort.

Automobiles carrying huge loads of prospective bathers ploughed their way through the monster sand beds and bounced over the ruts and rough places along the road from Dothan to the springs. This stream of pleasure seekers did not start until after the noon hour although a few, possibly, went to the springs in the morning.

The road to Kelly Springs is rough and narrow, and in some places it takes a good driver to steer his machine safely over the obstacles. Ruts and sand beds predominate, and nothing in so far as is known, has been done to have this road improved, notwithstanding the fact that it is extensively traveled.

Improvements

At Kelly Springs some improvements have been made, but still a great deal of work is to be done about the place. A concrete wall has been built around the pool, and the bath house has been completed. There is, however, no place for spectators to sit, except on the ground, which is not inviting.

The majority of the people at the springs yesterday were from Dothan, although many come from Headland, other towns and various rural communities.

DID NOT APPEAR

Wiley Williams, who had a warrant sworn out for J. R. Keyton on a charge of assault and battery, did not appear in Justice Butler's court to testify against Mr. Keyton when the case was called today.

SUNDAY LAW NET SPREADS

Indications from yesterday's activities are that Sheriff John A. May intends to rigidly enforce the Sunday law in Dothan, against the selling of cigars and soft drinks on the Sabbath.

Charged with violating the Sunday law, Paul Rockfield, G. B. Mansel and H. D. Hand were arrested by Warden Grady Granger and Talmadge May yesterday, the defendants all making bond for their appearance in court.

J. W. Roberts of Headland, district agent for Buicks, was here today showing a model D 55, the 7 passenger 1916 car. This is the first 1916 to be shown here.

C. E. Segrest, well known merchant of Slocumb, was here today.

O. T. Belcher, route 5 farmer, was here today. He says the army worm is fast ruining the bay crop of his country.

MAN HELD IN BRASS CASE

Herman Hardwick, charged with complicity in stealing brass from a lumber mill at Pansey and selling it to a Dothan concern, was arrested yesterday in the Pansey vicinity by Deputy Sheriff Alvan North and F. A. McCullough. This makes the second arrest in this case, John Nelson alias John Key, having been arrested Friday.

These officers also arrested Alphas Molon, near Granger who is said to be wanted at Jakin, Ga., on a charge of seduction.

WHOLE FAMILY DOWN FROM TYPHOID FEVER

Macon, Ga., Aug. 22.—With the death of W. R. Wood at the Macon hospital tonight of typhoid fever, Macon learned of one of the most pitiful cases that has come to light in some time. In a room adjoining the one where Mr. Wood died, lay Mrs. Wood and one of her eight children, both victims of typhoid. Mrs. Wood's condition is so serious that she was not old of her husband's death. Out at the family home, 3203 Houston avenue, four of the children are in bed with typhoid, and all are in a critical condition. Two months ago the baby of the family died a victim of typhoid.

AMERICAN SOLDIERS ARE FIRED UPON

Washington, August 22.—President Wilson is expected to lay before the cabinet at its meeting Tuesday the report to the war department by General Funston that Mexican soldiers fired upon a detachment of the Second Cavalry, United States army, under command of Captain Holcomb, while the American troops were on a practice march along the international boundary near Lohiel, Ariz.

This report adds that a body of 3,000 Mexican troops, under General Calles, a Carranza commander, are encamped directly across the border from Lohiel. The early report by Gen. Funston on this latest unfriendly act by Carranzistas made no mention of casualties, nor did it state whether the American soldiers replied to the fire.

BOY DIVES IN BAY, IS HURT

Lawrence Crawford, son of Bill Crawford, was seriously injured Sunday afternoon when he dived off the dock into the Bay near his home at Panama City, Fla., striking his head against some hard object in the water.

Miss Vera Crawford, who has been sitting on the porch at her home near where her brother took the plunge, saw him and hastened to the scene. Assistance arrived and the boy was taken out.

According to news reaching here the young man's tongue was nearly bitten through, and since the accident his limbs and body have been paralyzed, although he is conscious. It is supposed that he struck the bottom of the bay, or some undiscovered obstacle in the water with his head which was injured. He has relatives and friends in Dothan, where he was born and where his father's family lived up to some years ago when they moved to Panama City.

Will Take Boy to Mobile

Details of the Crawford accident were learned this afternoon. It seems that Lawrence Crawford, who is about 20 years old, dived off the dock into the water, which must have been shallow at that point. The young man's head struck in the mud, and did not strike some hard object as first reported. It is feared that the shock sustained as the boy's head came in contact with the mud, caused some injury to the spinal column. The young man is still conscious, although completely paralyzed, and his tongue is bitten nearly through. Relatives will leave for Mobile with the boy this afternoon where his case will be placed in the hands of specialists. An operation may be required, but nothing definite along this line will be known, until he is examined by the specialists.

GERMANY FACES MEAT SHORTAGE

Washington, Aug. 22.—Germany faces a 10 or 50 per cent reduction in the meat consumption of her civil population, according to a report compiled by the American Association of Commerce and Trade in Berlin received here. The bread card system, however, the report says, has given a surplus of wheat and rye flour which will make possible an increase in the bread allowance.

From the statistics gathered before the war, it is estimated that Germany depended on imports for about 27 per cent of her foodstuffs.

"In analyzing the effect of these figures upon the general situation," says the report, "it should be borne in mind that Germany's isolation is not a complete one, since about 8,200,000 bushels of wheat have been brought in since the outbreak of the war, and not much less of fodder, which is about one tenth of normal imports."

London, Aug. 21.—A dispatch to the Central News from Petrograd says:

"The president of the duma has announced that the Germans lost the battle cruiser Moltke, three cruisers and seven torpedo boats in the Riga battle."

The announcement as sent by the correspondent says:

"In the Riga battle the Germans lost one super-dreadnaught, the Moltke, three cruisers and seven torpedo boats."

"The German fleet has withdrawn from Riga bay."

"The Germans tried to make a descent near Pernau (Pernig) on the east shore of the Gulf of Riga, some thirty five miles north of Riga. Four barges crammed with soldiers took part in the descent. They were repulsed by the Russians without the co-operation of artillery, the Germans being exterminated and the barges captured."

The German battle cruiser Moltke was a vessel of 23,000 tons and carried ordinarily a complement of 1,107 men. She was a sister ship of the famous Goeben, now a part of the Turkish navy and known as the Sultan Selim.

The Moltke was in the battle with the British fleet in the North Sea last January when the German armored cruiser Blucher was sunk. In 1912 the Moltke was in the German squadron which visited the United States. The Moltke cost about $12,000,000.

ABOUT THAT "FACTIONAL MEASURE" VETO.

The Sunday Advertiser contained an article under the heading of "Factional Measure Vetoed." It referred to the attorney general bill, and that paper, as usual, thought it an outrage. The Advertiser said that this bill was passed by the majority which talks so much about economy and abolishing offices.

For the Advertiser, this is great. That paper, which has always stood for abolishing useless offices, could name any number of them till the legislature got in session. It was like the Governor. It couldn't put its finger on one single office, and advise the legislature to do away with it. The governor, during his campaign, knew of a number that could have been abolished, but when those bills came up, he threw his great influence against them, even to the extent of holding to John H. Wallace, whom he had picked out for the slaughter in his opening campaign speech. Couldn't even spare that office, and the Advertiser, like the governor, has never at any time since the legislature has been in session, asked or suggested that one job, just one, should go.

But the characteristic inconsistency of the Advertiser is shown further along, when referring to this attorney general bill it says:

"This bill was in the platform of no man who ran for the legislature last spring. What would the voters have had to say to the candidate if he had told them."

That's so careless of the Advertiser.

To carry that line of thought just one step further:

"What would the voters of Alabama said to a legislator who announced his candidacy in favor of issuing a million and a half dollars worth of bonds?"

What would that same electorate have said even to the candidate for Governor, had he said he was willing to get behind a million and a half dollar bond issue?

Well, when the election is finally called, you can see from the returns what the voters might have said to such a candidate. Pass on it then.

The Advertiser, with the administration, is in bad light, when it attempts to criticize the legislature for taking action on matters not mentioned in the various platforms last spring was a year ago.

FARM PRITTON.

N. W. Hurd, a telegraph operator at Oark, has filed a voluntary petition in the United States court here.

WOMEN OF THE CREDIT MERCHANT.

(Commercial Appeal.)

The credit system in the south was illuminated several weeks ago by a letter from Mr. Tait, farmer, who pays his debts, but had a hard time doing so. Mr. Tait was complaining about the high prices in credit stores.

We have a letter in this issue which we have signed "Credit merchant," in which other points of interest are developing. The credit merchant is compelled to charge high prices to equalize the losses incurred by those who do not pay at all. The result of the system, then, is that the good men in a community are paying the losses made by the unfortunate or the shiftless, and that the prosperous years in the community must pay the losses made in the lean years.

In every business certain losses are to be expected. Every year on the farm cannot be a bountiful year, and in prosperous years some men do little better than in lean seasons. The whole problem seems to us to center around management on the farm. There would be fewer farmers hopelessly in debt if they were more careful in purchases. There would be fewer merchants fail if they were more discriminate in credits. This suggestion to the merchants, however, is a more palliative.

What the merchant says about the farmer getting out of debt and then running off and spending his cash somewhere else is important. If the farmers who have cash will spend their surplus with the country merchant, they will find that they can even go as far along in the season as May or June without incurring debt. The matter of being carried over, then of three or four months becomes easier than being carried for an entire year.

In a country of diversification the country store operates practically on a cash basis. The whole question finally ends in diversification up to that point where the consumer will make the soil produce much of what he eats and all of what his animals eat.

In a properly diversified community the farmers prosper and the merchants prosper. There is a foolish idea, and the merchants themselves are partly responsible for it, that if there is diversification, there will be small business for the merchant. In a diversified country the merchant does not content himself with selling staples. He branches out into a line of notions. He may carry a good line of furniture. He may be an agent for a piano house.

We know of a village in Kentucky that has a population of about 600. It is the county seat. It is located only 18 miles from Louisville. That village gets trade from the entire county, the roads to which are good. In it are two banks. One of the merchants has an agency for one of the largest agricultural firms in the world. He also sells hayrack wire and harness. He carries a nice line of clothing. His notions are not made up of poverty brought old stocks, but are as modern as those sold in the big cities.

In the same village there is an undertaking establishment. The embalmer in that establishment can do as good work as any of our men in Memphis.

In the same village there are two good meat shops. Why should a meat shop be in a diversified country? The farmers sell the cattle, hogs or sheep and the butchering is done under better conditions than it could be done on the farm in the summer.

We will get to this condition of living when we diversify our activities; until this day comes we will all have to worry along and make allowances for a whole lot of slack. Diversification means more prosperous farmers and more prosperous storekeepers.

One thing sure, the problem will be solved sooner by all of us thinking more about it and all of us doing more and by all of us pulling together.

EAGLE SHOULD WAKE UP ON THE FAIR QUESTION.

(Mobile Item.)

The usually correct Dothan Eagle has made a very serious mistake—one which is gross slander on Mobile. It says: "Dothan and Birmingham, up in Jefferson county, are what you might call exclusive cities—being the only two cities to have a fair this fall."

For information of The Eagle the item would respectfully suggest that Mobile is to have a fair this fall which will be the best ever, with exhibits of all kind to interest the people at home as well as those from any section of the country. The Gulf Coast Fair Association has one of the finest sites in the State of Alabama, lying just off the shore of Mobile Bay, where the balmy breezes wafted in from the gulf may be enjoyed at all times. Many thousand dollars are being expended in putting the grounds in the finest condition, a splendid half-mile track is being replaced. The exhibit buildings will be large, well lighted and ventilated and so arranged as to give every exhibitor a fair and equal showing in the displaying of their exhibits. There will be industrial, farm, livestock and every other kind of exhibits, and the whole show will be not only interesting but instructive. If The Eagle man doubts the statement he needs only to come down to Alabama's only seaport city and see for himself what is being prepared in the way of a fair that will not be excelled anywhere in the State.

Dothan and Birmingham, up in Jefferson county, are what you might call exclusive cities—being the only two cities to have a fair this fall—Dothan Eagle. Do not forget Mobile. The fair here promises to be a gulf coast show of prime importance. Mobile Register.

Dothan and Birmingham are now claiming to be the only cities to have fairs for this fall. Now watch old Troy walk in and outshine them both!—Troy Messenger.

The Dothan Eagle says the road to the church on Sunday is filled with automobiles going the other way. Joy vehicles are getting to be the strongest opponents with which our ministers have to deal.—Marion Standard.

CALOMEL WHEN BILIOUS? NO! STOP! MAKES YOU SICK AND SALIVATES

"Dothan's Liver Tonic" is Harmless To Clean Your Sluggish Liver and Blood.

Tight Calomel makes you sick. It's horrible! Take a dose of the dangerous drug tonight and tomorrow you may lose a day's work.

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with your bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour, just try a spoonful of harmless Dothan's Liver Tonic tonight on my guarantee.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a 50-cent bottle of Dothan's Liver Tonic. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dothan's Liver Tonic is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine: entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dothan's Liver Tonic will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dothan's Liver Tonic will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe, and they like its pleasant taste.

KNOCKERS.

Editor Eagle:

Dothan has fewer of these than most places and would be profoundly pleased to ship even these to some distant port where they would remain. There is no place for a knocker in any ambitious, progressive community. They are a misfit, a bird of ill omen, an old raven sitting, eternally crying, "Nevermore." Let us get rid of those we have—the knocker—the man who can see no good in his town, who thinks everything in his community is going to the dogs and everyone else is a crook—who is continually bragging on some other place at the expense of his own—the man who will not invest his money in his town and takes it somewhere else,—who has laid down and quit, who thinks every effort to do something will be a failure, and last but by no means the least, the positionless sneak, who having made a failure of something himself, "knocks" the effort of someone else to make a success of it.

Dothan does not need any of this class and if we have any let us make it so hot for them they will get out. We want the "Dothan spirit," the spirit of progress, of unselfish work for our whole community. This is the spirit that wins.

The Golden Chance

(By Walt Mason in the Emporia Eagle, Gazette.)

"I believe the sentiment in favor of government ownership of railways is growing stronger every day," remarked the assessor, "and it certainly would be the best thing that ever happened in this country."

"I agree with you cordially," said the village patriarch. "Unless the government takes charge of the railways, I don't see what we're going to do with all our lawyers. We are providing for them as generously as we can, sending them to Congress and state legislatures. Wherever there is an office, with a fat salary attached, we put a lawyer in it. And yet, in spite of our best efforts, the superfluous lawyers are overrunning the country. Every dark and forbidding stairway in the business section of every town, leads to the lan of a hungry lawyer."

"About ten lawyers in a hundred make a decent living, the other ninety have some trouble keeping the wolf from the door, and some of them never get a square meal unless they are invited out. These facts are patent to all, yet the schools are turning out more lawyers every day, and I don't see what's going to become of them all unless the government marks their grand failure, sign of distress and furnishes relief. The condition of the lawyers will become worse instead of better, otherwise, for the people are becoming more sensible year after year, and are learning that the most unprofitable thing in this world, next to the jim jams is litigation."

"Old booze is being wiped off the map and various parties and organizations are claiming the credit, but the credit belongs to the people. They have come to the conclusion that paying good money for a striped headache is poor business, also, they have noticed that the gents who chew cloves too much lose their jobs, and can't get them back again, and so the people are simply quitting drinking because they see the folly of it and not because silver tongued orators have had hysterics in their presence, not because eloquentists have recited "Father dear father, come home with me now."

It's the same way with litigation.

tion. All of a sudden the people woke up and realized that it was idiotic to purchase justice when they didn't need it in their business, for justice is the most expensive luxury on earth, and when you buy a bolt of it and take it home you find it's half cotton, where it should be all wool. So the people have quit, or are quitting, going to law, unless there's something big at stake, and this makes the sliding abominable for attorneys.

"But if the government takes hold of the railways, all will be changed, and the lawyers will see the dawn of a brighter day. The government's first move will be to let out all the experienced railway men, to make room for lawyers and other professional patriots who must be rewarded because they made excellent addresses on the Fourth of July or organized the voters in their respective wards prior to the last election. The government is going butt on the subject of primaries and elections. Every thing must be decided by the vote of the people and so the jobs of station agents and train dispatchers and section foremen will be come elective offices and lawyers who are candidates for such positions will be buttonholing us on every street corner."

Under private ownership the railways promote their men from one job to another. The lord passenger conductor started in as a freight brakeman and worked his way up and knows everything there is to know about running trains, so you feel safe and contented when you go to sleep in your upper berth. But when the government is running the railways all the conductors will be lawyers chosen because they did valuable service for the party in power, or because they have a number of votes in their vest pockets so to speak.

The engineers will be men who have qualified by serving terms as justices of the peace and the brakemen will be notaries of the public and all the players will be connected with the law in one way or another. Thus great problems will be solved and cadaverous lawyers will be few and far between. They'll all fatten up at the expense of the taxpayers.

MIDLAND CITY DOTS

By Correspondent
Editor Eagle

We guess it's about time you were hearing from these dots, again so here goes. News seems to have flourished off and gone to some far country. The late news of the lynching of Lee Frank seems to be the greatest talk now. Some think the mob did a righteous act while others think not. Let that be as it may, the newspapers will now have to hunt another man as Frank is no more.

The farmers are hauling cotton to market this week at a rapid rate. The Midland City big gun runs or nearly all the time during the day time.

A good many of our people attended the opening of Keel Springs Thursday and report a delightful time.

Mr. Ben Stough one of our clever rural mail carriers is having his dwelling house overhauled. When completed will be one of the prettiest houses in this town.

GIRL TENNIS STAR DOES A COME BACK

MAY SUTTON
MAY SUTTON (MRS. THOMAS C. BUNDY)

Clear the track and get out the old smiling salt for the women tennis players. May Sutton, who since her marriage to Thomas C. Bundy retired from the game, is coming back, and with a vengeance. The former Miss Sutton won the national women's title in 1904 and in 1905 and 1907 went to England, won and defended the world's title. In 1912 she married Thomas Bundy with Maurine M. Foughlin holds the national doubles title. Then she retired from the game. But now her two little girls no longer make such heavy demands on her time, so she is again picking up the racket. She has just won the Southern California title from Miss Marjorie Brown three times national women's doubles and singles champion. It was the first time Mrs. Bundy has been defeated in three years. She has announced her intention of entering all the tournaments, and she again claims the title.

of Dothan spent Sunday in Midland City with Mrs. Hall's parents Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Black.

Several wagon and buggy loads of our people spent the day at Sylvan Grove church. Friday where Rev. M. J. Budwin is conducting a protracted meeting and is being ably assisted by Rev. Willie Hutto. Reports say they are having a great revival.

We have reason to believe this is true, as Brother Fella is a great worker and a great one that is true and that is true. Well Mr. Editor, I hope these things will make some difference for the future, remember that a year ago we were close but will come again next week.

Rev. R. L. Campbell pastor of the Presbyterian church here went over to Columbia yesterday afternoon and held services for the Presbyterians at that place who are without a pastor at present.

LOVE

(Chicago Post.)

If somebody loves you,
You cannot be sad;
You've cause for rejoicing,
You've cause to be glad.
You've a subject for some
As you journey your way,
If somebody loves you
You ought to be gay.

If somebody loves you,
You're bound to get gay
And blow in the cash
In a wild, reckless way.
If somebody loves you,
You'll part from your self
And make quite an all-round
Fool of yourself.

If somebody loves you,
You'll write foolish notes
In lovey-dovey languages
Upon which she dotes.
She'll save them and sue you
And wed you by force;
The jury will find for
The plaintiff, of course.

COME YE NA HAME.

(Philadelphia Public Ledger)
Come ye na hame, my bonny lad;
Come hame na mair to me!
Ere I, wi' weary sigh, maun gang
Maun gang to rest awae.

Wi' him, who sleeps in yon dear spot;
Whaese smile I since did see;
An' oh! my mither-heart cries
out:

Come hame! Come hame to me!
Come ye na hame, my gallant lad?
Come hame it canna be,
For the chill o' death has taen
him,
Taen my brave son frae me!

'Mid the cannons thund'ring rattle
He died, my sodger boy;
An' 'wae is my heart wi' sorrow,
An' rest o' every joy.

Come ye na hame to me, laddie!
Alas! it winna be;
An' I maun rest awhile, laddie!
Ere I come hame to ye.

IF KIDNEYS ACT

BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is Sign You Have Been Eating Too Much Meat.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

HAVE YOU A CHILD?

Many women long for children, but because of some curable physical derangement are deprived of the greatest of all happinesses. The women whose names follow were restored to normal health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Write and ask them about it.

"I took your Compound and have a fine, strong baby." — Mrs. JOHN MITCHELL, Massena, N. Y.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a wonderful medicine for expectant mothers." — Mrs. A. M. MYERS, Cantonville, Mo.

"I highly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before child-birth, it has done so much for me." — Mrs. E. M. DORN, R. R. 1, Conshohocken, Pa.

"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to build up my system and have the dearest baby girl in the world." — Mrs. M. B. BLAKELEY, Coalport, Pa.

"I praise the Compound whenever I have a chance. It did so much for me before my little girl was born." — Mrs. E. W. SANDERS, Rowlesburg, W. Va.

"I took your Compound before baby was born and feel I owe my life to it." — Mrs. W. W. TILLER, Winter Haven, Florida.

Aaron Martin, well known citizen of route 1, was here today.

JUST TO REMIND YOU.

By James A. Wade,

Commissioner of Agriculture and Industries of Alabama.

That a good large fertile turnip patch sown about the last of August will add much to your living next winter. Even the cows and hogs will appreciate them and your poor neighbors will enjoy a few turnips and greens during the cold winter.

Your cows and horses will appreciate it, if you will look over the farm and see if there is any good hay or forage going to waste. The horses will go with you and help to cut and haul it and will thank you again for every arduous you throw into the manger next winter.

Are there any peas going to waste on your farm, if so, would it not be best to save them now before you get so busy with other things? Peas are pretty good food for humanity, all kinds of stock like to eat peas and they make fine hay. It is better business to save the peas than to buy them next year with cold cash.

How would you like to sow a few burr clover seed in your burr-mud pastures about now and have green grazing for your stock all winter.

A fall garden succeeds well in Alabama and some nice young vegetables will help out the living and be very appetizing during the fall. The time for this work is rapidly passing.

A winter cover crop of oats or rye scratched in between the cotton rows as you gather the cotton would not be a bad idea. The seed are cheap and it will not cost much to sow it. It will keep the land from washing and leaching. It will make good winter grazing and furnish some green manure to turn in the spring.

The above suggestions are for you to think about but do not think too long. Thinking without acting will not get results. It has been wisely said that procrastination is a thief of time. It is not only a thief of time, but thief of opportunity and prosperity also.

UNLOADING GOLD FROM TRAIN.

PICTURE SHOWS THE GOLD BEING UNLOADED FROM THE TRAIN.

New York, August 21.—The largest shipment of gold in the history of this country, $34,000,000 in gold coin and $21,000,000 in securities, is now safe in the U. S. Sub-Treasury in Wall Street. The gold was shipped to the firm of J. P. Morgan and Company to bolster low prices in sterling exchange, from England. A battle cruiser brought it across the Atlantic to Halifax, from which point it was transferred to New York in a special train of seven steel cars. The gold was in 700 boxes, each weighing 200 pounds apiece. Twenty-five auto trucks, heavily guarded were used to transport the gold from the railway station to the Sub-Treasury.
